You don't want to be anywhere near this guy. We first met the self-opinionated Jack Gardner in The Honey Do List, a recent EVVY Merit Award winner. Ten years have rolled by, and he is now totally self-absorbed and absolutely paranoid about his health. His fruitless search for the Fountain of Youth has turned him into a full-blown hypochondriac and he stumbles through life in a medication induced haze. Brain fog is a constant companion but his troubles really ramp up when he falls asleep. Vivid dreams grab hold of his mind, and he assumes a dozen different identities as he gallivants across the globe leaving a trail of chaos in his wake. In turn rent collector, British diplomat, stock broker, water engineer, travel writer and Catholic priest, Jack crosses paths with a host of zany characters, goes completely blind while traveling on the London tube, discovers that he has a sister neither he nor his parents knew about, and gets embroiled in a nasty scandal involving a Chicago basketball star and a notorious gang...
