Grandparents want to grandparent well because they sense their responsibility for these little lives is huge. They want as much interaction as possible without interfering with the role of their parents. And they want to make time with grandchildren count! As a professional marriage and family counselor, Dr. Judith Rolfs, author of Secrets To Being A Super Grandparent, realizes grandparents have a whole new role and relationship to figure out. Grandparenting is easier in some ways than parenting, usually there is less responsibility, but it s harder, too, because there s less control and no clear agenda. Rolfs adds a little structure to the process with this idea-packed book for enriching times together. She says, It s easy to miss out on the joyful time to enjoy grandchildren if you don t have a plan for what you ll do. This book is full of ideas for conversation topics, important lessons to teach in fun ways, stories to inspire. Grandparents can be a beautiful reflection of God s generous love that grandchildren need and long for. These aren t just sappy words, but true. Grandparents are vitally important in the family because you give what grandchildren need - companionship with adults who find them fascinating and lovable. Often parents lack the time and energy to devote as much individual attention to their children as they d like. The author says: You can radiate a different view of life through the window of your maturity. You ve managed to survive life s hustle-bustle monster and hopefully learned to tame it a bit. The key is to dote on grandchildren and teach this new generation of your family to...
