Not illustrated. 1858 Excerpt: . . . necessary, but he must obtain permission to do so, and make his charge in the presence of the person accused. The reports of the day are collected from the teachers, and entered in a defaulters book by one of the first class boys, who acts as school writer. These reports are investigated and punishments awarded by the Masters. The usual punishment for misbehaving or inattention is half an hours confinement; for being troublesome or disobedient, one hour, for each offence. Obstinacy is generally punished with the cane, the quantity varying from 1 to 12 cuts on the hand, 12 cuts being the maximum allowed by the rules of the Asylum. A flogging is seldom ordered for any thing but stealing or indecency, and is then administered by one of the School Sergeants by the sanction and in the presence of the Principal at a special parade of the whole of the boys. The confinement is administered by one of the Pupil Teachers, who goes on duty in turn each day as orderly teacher for this purpose. The school defaulters book and punishment book are inspected weekly by the Principal, and kept as records. (4). Letters. --Boys are permitted to come to the school-room for the purpose of writing letters to their friends, after bathing hour on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, on which days from past 2 till prayers at 4 o'clock, the orderly teacher is present to superintend. The letters after being inspected by the Head Master...
