Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from In Memoriam; Howard Lord Morehouse: A Father s Loving Tribute At about seven years of age he entered the Cathedral Institute, graduating with honors on June 12th, 1890, at which time the Miriam Oliver gold medal was awarded him as the best pupil of the school. At the same time a gold medal as first honor in the senior department was given him by the Institute. For the year previous he had been Captain of Cadets at the Institute, and was very proficient as drill master. On the 1st of August, 1890, he entered the University of the South, the present Co-Adjutor Bishop of Tennessee then being the Vice-Chancellor. It was because of my acquaintance with, and knowledge of Dr. Gailor, that led me to choose the University of the South as the school best suited for Howards course of study, and I wish to add here, that the choice could not have been better made. As soon as the prescribed limit was passed, Howard was made a Gownsmen. He passed one year very successfully at the University, and commenced on his second year, when he was afflicted by a disease of the eyes which necessitated his withdrawal from school.
