Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Open Air Crusaders: A Report of the Elizabeth McCormick Open Air School, Together With a General Account of Open Air School Work in Chicago and a Chapter on School Ventilation This little book concerns itself with the physical needs of school children. It is a story of the results obtained by giving a group of physically deficient pupils, most of them predisposed to tuberculosis, a year in an open air school; of their gain in health and mentality; of the part these little fresh air crusaders have already had in opening twenty thousand schoolhouse windows. The school was conducted by the United Charities of Chicago and the expense of maintenance, attendants and equipment was met through a grant to the Society by the Trustees of the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial Fund, a foundation in honor of the child to whose memory this book is dedicated. The Board of Education lent its generous and hearty co-operation by furnishing the school equipment, teacher, the supervision and whole conduct of the educational side of the work. Inquiries about the...
